Sometimes he was even the main background character in adored webcomic and YouTube videos. Biography Smith grew up in San Francisco, California. He attended the local public schools and New Leaf High School. He is also an avid fan of skateboarding, skateboard design, punk rock, metal, and horror films. He also plays guitar and was a member of the Far Out club. Smith graduated from the University of California, Los Angeles with a bachelor's degree in Television, Film and Theater Arts. He attended film school at the University of California, San Diego. On March 26, 2000, Smith was found dead from a heroin overdose. His body was found in the parking lot of an Anaheim hotel, and he was 23 years old. His death prompted several musicians to begin studying heroin addiction. Smith is best known as the guitarist and backing vocalist of the underground punk/hardcore band Bracket. Bracket's 1999 album No Other has been called "an important chronicle of the havoc created by heroin addiction in the '90s" by Larry Ferrell of Metro Times, and Smith has been called "a brave and generous talent" by R.A. the Rugged Man of Metal Rock. Bracket is known for their sardonic humor. References External links Bracket at Encyclopaedia Metallum Bracket - image - Published by Metropolis records.
